Trouble Ahead

When the appetite fails and sleep grows restless and unrefreshing there is trouble ahead. The digestive organs, when healthy crave food the nervous system when vigorous and tranquil gives its possessor no uneasiness at night. A tonic, to be effective, should not be a mere appetizer, nor are nerves to be strengthened and soothed by the unaided action of a sedative or a narcotic. What is required is a medicine which invigorates the stomach, and promotes assimilation of food by the system by which means the nervous system, as well as other parts of the physical organism are strengthened. These are the effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters a medicine whose reputation is founded firmly in public confidence and which physicians commend for its tonic, anti bilious and other properties. It is used with the best results in fever and ague rheumatism kidney and uterine weakness, and other maladies.

AN IMPORTANT BILL PASSED

The Senate Adopts the Twin Bills Appropriating Millions of Dollars for Defense—The Interstate Commerce Law

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—A statement is current in railroad circles in Philadelphia that before the close of the session there will be introduced in the house of representatives a resolution calling on the Union Pacific railroad to show by what authority of law the Oregon Short line was constructed and by what authority the bonds of said road were guaranteed by the Union Pacific. The statement is made by certain government officials that since the construction of the Oregon Short line said road has been operated at a loss of $600 000 a year that so much of the Union Pacific receipts as may be necessary are applied to make up this deficiency, thereby lessening the values of Union Pacific securities. The interest that the government holds in the road is the basis of the alleged injury.

Mitchell submitted an amendment intended to be proposed to the river and harbor bill appropriating $100 000 for a final survey estimates and commencement of the work of constructing a boat railway at the dalles and for blasting open contracted waterways at Ten Mile and Three Mile rapids. This bill was first introduced as a separate measure.

Hermann introduced a bill granting a pension to Geo L. Russell of Douglas county. Also a bill to pay Joseph Russell of Coos county $310 for property destroyed by Indians.

On request of Senator Voorhees, the resolution to discharge the committee on territories from further consideration of the bill to change the time of meeting of the legislative assembly of Washington territory was again laid over for one day.

T. C. J.

SENATE

WASHINGTON, Feb 8.—Teller, from the committee on public lands reported a bill granting certain lands to the city of Colorado City, for a water reservoir; placed on the calendar.

Hoar presented a memorial of the national board of trade, in favor of a general bankruptcy law.

The senate being about to take up house bills on the calendar Hawley moved to proceed to consideration of the bill to encourage the manufacture of steel and modern army ordnance, armor, and for other army purposes, and to provide heavy ordnance adapted to army warfare. He said he had given notice several days ago that he would make this motion. He was pushed forward to it by the committee on coast defenses, the committee on military affairs and the general sentiment of the senate, he believed, and of the country he knew.

The motion was agreed to—yeas 32 nays 21—and the bill was taken up for action. Several amendments reported by the committee on coast defense were agreed to and after an explanation on some points of detail the bill was passed without division.

The text of the bill is as follows: That the secretary of war be and is authorized to make contracts with responsible steel manufacturers after suitable advertisements to continue not less than thirty days in newspapers most likely to reach the manufacturers addressed for a supply of rough bored rough turned and tempered steel in forms suitable for heavy ordnance adapted to modern warfare, and steel finished for armor and other army purposes, in quantity not to exceed 10 000 gross tons, in quantity and dimensions conforming to specifications, subject to inspection and tests at each stage of manufacture, and including parts of each caliber specified. Provided that no money shall be expended except for steel accepted and delivered that each bidder shall contract to erect in the United States a suitable plant, including the best modern appliances, capable of making all the steel required and of finishing it in accordance with the contract and agreement and to deliver yearly a specified quantity of each caliber the time of delivery of small calibers to commence at the expiration of not more than eighteen months and that of the largest caliber at the expiration of not more than three years from the date of acceptance of the contract and that all forgings shall be manufactured in the United States.

Sec 2 That the secretary of war be and is hereby authorized to erect at the Watervliet arsenal West Troy N. Y., an army gun factory, in accordance with the report of the gun foundry board of December 20 1884 for finishing of guns adapted to modern warfare of approved sizes and for the manufacture of gun carriages and ordnance equipment for the army at a cost not to exceed $1 000 000.

Sec 3 That for the purposes of the foregoing sections the sum of $8 000 000 is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be available during six years from January 1887.

Sec 4 That for the purpose of the construction of fortification and other work as coast defense such as masonry and earthwork foundations, for turrets casements and magazines, submarine mines and galleries exclusive of armor in accordance with the recommendations of the board of fortifications or other defenses as appointed by the president of the United States under the provisions of the act of congress approved March 3 1885 five million dollars to be expended under direction of the secretary of war, is hereby appropriated.

The senate then took up and passed the bill to encourage the manufacture of steel for modern naval ordnance armor shafting and other naval purposes and to provide heavy ordnance adapted to modern naval warfare. This bill is like the other in important particulars except that the gun factory is to be at the Washington navy yard and that the fourth section of the other is omitted.

OTHER BUSINESS

The senate then proceeded under special order to consideration of house bills on the calendar to which there was no objection. Twenty bills were passed among them the following:

To amend the act of February 26 1885 to prohibit importation and immigration of foreigners and aliens under contract to perform labor.

To amend section [illegible] of the act of June 10 1880 in relation to immediate transportation of dutiable goods.

The senate then resumed consideration of the Eads Tehuantepec bill and Morgan concluded his speech in support of it and after an executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—In the house to-day Morrow of California introduced a bill to protect the harbors of San Francisco and New York. It provides for the construction of two steel rams on a model recommended by Rear Admiral Ammen at a cost of $500 000 each.

Reed of Maine asking for Dingley introduced a bill to protect the fisheries of the United States. The bill provides for the seizure and forfeiture of any vessel found taking fish within three marine miles of the coast of the United States and further provides that if any person of such vessel is found taking fish within the limit named he shall be subject to a fine of $50 for each offense and the vessel upon which he is employed shall be subject to sale. The secretary of the treasury is empowered to remit or mitigate the penalty if it is discovered that such was incurred without willful violation of law.

Under the call of states a large number of bills were introduced and referred.

Bayne of Pennsylvania moved to suspend the rules and pass the senate bill fixing the salaries of judges of the United States courts at $5000; lost, yeas [illegible] nays 109, not receiving the necessary two thirds.

On motion of Peters of Kansas the rules were suspended and a bill was passed granting a right of way through Indian territory to the Chicago Kansas & Nebraska railway.

THE INTERSTATE COMMISSION.

A List of the Names that will Probably be Appointed by the President

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 7.—The Examiner's Washington special says: The interstate commission will, it is known, be named in a few days. The president has already decided whom to appoint and has addressed letters to those he has selected asking their acceptance. The names are said with seeming authority to be included in the following named list: Allen G. Thurman of Ohio, William Windom of Minnesota, Thomas M. Cooley of Michigan, Francis C. Kernan Jr of New York, Gen. James H. Wilson of Delaware, James Milton Smith of Georgia, John F. Swift of California, Wm. T. Coleman of California, Mr Clarke of Boston. Five men will be selected from the above list. There is reason to believe that letters have already been sent to five of them and upon their acceptance the nominations will be sent to the senate. Allen G. Thurman will be chairman of the commission if he will accept. Some weeks ago he asked the president to appoint his son Allen G. Thurman Jr to the [illegible]

The only New Yorker who will get the place is a democrat. He is Francis C. Kernan Jr son of the ex United States senator from New York. He is a man of 40 years or so and was appointed railroad commissioner of that state by the president when he was governor. Then Kernan was very young but he made a good record and his record has made the president proud of him. He has applied for the appointment and there is no doubt of his acceptance. His profession is that of engineer. It seems necessary and natural that there should be a man from the Pacific coast on the commission but the president finds it difficult to make a selection. Those who are mentioned are as near happy men as can be found and are regarded as fair and honest men. Swift is a republican and he is likely to get a place only in case Cooley or Windom should decline. There is no certainty of either accepting as they have not been consulted.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE HAWAIIAN TREATY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 7.—The Call's Washington special says: It is understood that King Kalakaua does not approve of the amendment adopted by the senate to the Hawaiian treaty insisting upon cession to the United States of Pearl river harbor as a coaling and naval station. The Hawaiian government does not object to this amendment because it is opposed to the ceding of any of its territory to the United States. On the contrary it would be very glad to make the concession but for the fact that there are doubts of its acceptance by the house of representatives. A simple renewal of the existing treaty for a period of seven years would not require any legislation by the house; concurrence of the senate would be sufficient. But if this amendment should be agreed to it is claimed that legislation would be required by the house to make the treaty operative. Without discussing the merits of this technical proposition it is stated that the king will not risk the possibility of rejection of this important concession. It is said that the president will send a message to the senate advising the renewal of the treaty for a period of three years.

MANNING WILL NOT BE IMPEACHED

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent of February 6 says that after consultation with Speaker Carlisle to-day several democrats who believe Manning should be impeached for alleged violation of the laws respecting the reissue of $1 and $2 greenbacks decided not to offer resolutions of censure or impeachment.

THE REJECTION OF MATTHEWS

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—A document prepared by Senator Ingalls and offered in the shape of a resolution regarding the rejection of Matthews (colored) to be recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia, was to-day adopted by the senate (26 to 18 a party vote) and will be sent to the president with the rejection.

NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb 7.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate to-day: E. G. Lore of Missouri to be consul general at the City of Mexico, J. M. Needham of Franklin Ind to be agent for Indians at Lembi agency, in Idaho.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

PEACE TALK AND WAR PREPARATIONS.

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The Mail and Express's London correspondent cables: Notwithstanding the gloomy outlook in European affairs the Rothschilds believe that peace will be maintained, and their faith is apparently shared by all the leading financiers. Outside of financial circles also the vane of European expectations is veering again toward peace. This encouraging condition of public sentiment is very short-lived, and will last only for a moment, as the pacific assurances issued in Paris are contradicted by the actual facts of the situation. Constant movements of troops and other active preparations for war on the frontier are daily taking place which it is impossible wholly to conceal in spite of strong efforts of the French government to keep up an appearance of pacific intent. A marked instance of this attitude of affairs is the fact that although Gen Boulanger allows a denial to be semi officially made that any troops are going to the German frontier letters from Nancy, Chalons Surmarne and other places in the east mention that trains filled with troops are passing eastward toward the border.

The French papers also declare it to be untrue that Boulanger has been on a secret tour of inspection of frontier fortifications and military posts and assert boldly that he has never left Paris since this agitation has been on foot. It is, however positively known in Berlin that Boulanger organized a corps of inspection officers at his headquarters at Verdun and has been making daily reconnoissances in plain clothes along the frontier covering the whole possible line of operations, from Sedan to Besancon.

The railway service eastward has been very seriously deranged during the past week, and this is unhesitatingly attributed to war preparations and is generally believed to be due to the hurrying forward of government trains bearing troops and munitions of war to the front.

It is a firm belief in supposed well informed quarters that France and Germany mean to engage in a conflict ere long. With this impression Boulanger has just ordered the immediate construction of a new shell factory at Verdun in which 200 000 shells are to be made. During his recent visits to Verdun he expedited the erection of new barracks and forts, ordering the men to work day and night the electric light being utilized during the dark hours. There is now no cessation of work at any time of the twenty four hours, relays of men succeeding each other at regular intervals.

POLITICAL NOTES FROM PARIS

PARIS, Feb 7.—Le Paris expresses thankfulness because France is under republican government. "A king," says that journal, "could never have brooked German insults."

The Spanish republican immigrants residing in France have decided to form a volunteer force of 2000 men to assist France in the event of a war with Germany.

WAR EXPECTED IN THE SPRING

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The Star's cable says: Belief is general in mercantile circles that war between Germany and France will break out as soon as fighting weather sets in. The official view is that peace or war depends on the efforts of the powers to form an alliance. The outlook, on the whole may be summed as no immediate danger but war in the spring.

MEXICO.

THE OUTLAWS WERE MEXICANS NOT INDIANS

TUCSON, Feb [illegible].—A well known army officer has returned from Sonora Mexico after thorough investigation of the alleged Indian outrages which were reported to have been committed a short time since. This officer, with a hunting party that included several Indian scouts, happened to be in the vicinity of Oputo at the time the report was received. He immediately proceeded to the spot where the attack was made and put Indian scouts on the trail which was carefully followed. It was soon discovered that they were not pursuing Indians, but a band of Mexican robbers, a part of their clothing was found secreted near where the attack was made. The Mexican authorities continued the chase after the robbers and succeeded in capturing one, who was subsequently [illegible].

RUSSIA.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION NEAR BAKU.

ST PETERSBURG, Feb 7.—The inhabitants of Baku the center of the great Russian petroleum field have been much alarmed over a subterranean explosion which shook houses and caused considerable damage. At the same time a volcano burst on Lokbatan ten miles distant from Baku. For two nights the volcano threw a column of fire [illegible] 350 feet high illuminating the country for miles. Mud emitted during the eruption already lies from seven to fourteen feet deep over a full square mile of territory.

THINKS THERE WILL BE NO WAR.

LONDON, Feb 7.—The Standard's correspondent at St Petersburg affects to know on good authority that there will be no war in Europe.

GERMANY.

THE GERMAN EAST AFRICAN COMPANY

BERLIN, Feb [illegible].—The German East African company has been converted into a corporation by a resolution of its founders, merchants and financiers. The board of directors will consist of twenty-seven members, three of whom are to be nominated by Bismarck. The capital is to be raised to 5 000 000 marks by a further issue of shares.

A GREAT TELEPHONE PROJECT

BERLIN, Feb 7.—The postoffice authorities are making extensive experiments with a view to connecting the whole of Germany by telephone.

ENGLAND.

NOTES FROM LONDON

LONDON, Feb [illegible].—The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that England has practically decided to adopt the Lee American rifle for the use of her army.

Acting by his physician's advice Parnell will go abroad to recruit his health after the conclusion of the debate on the address.

The Parnellites will oppose in parliament all projects relative to liquor traffic in Ireland on the ground that the question should be reserved for the Irish parliament.

NORTHERN PACIFIC'S EARNINGS.

The Canadian Pacific Shops at Yale Burned—Fruitless Search for the Dawn—An Astoria Steamboat Sunk—Etc

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Feb 8.—Mr Henry W. Tewksbury of West Randolph, Vt., the lecturer, states that he was in the first day coach. He was dozing at the time of the accident, but was aroused by feeling the car jumping upon the railroad ties. He had been in two railroad accidents before this one, and knew what the sensation portended. Realizing that an accident was about to occur he jumped from his seat, with the intention of making his escape. The train seemed to come to a standstill or to go very slowly. He thought it was all right, and so sat down again. Then without a moment's warning that anything further was to occur the car seemed to leap into space and then came the terrible crash.

For a moment he was stunned and scarcely knew whether he was dead or alive. He tried to move, but found he could not budge an inch. He noticed with great alarm that fire had broken out at the farther end of the coach. He struggled with all his strength to free himself and screamed for help but there was no one at hand to help him. "It was a time of mental torture but still he could not help in seeing an old couple who were a few seats above him. They sought to get out, but they were hopelessly tied down by the heavy seats. The flames approached the couple with frightful rapidity and the aged pair seemed to feel that there was no hope for them. The last he saw of them they were locked in each other's arms and in the act of kissing. Smoke and flames now enveloped them hiding them from view.

RESCUED FROM DEATH

Mr Tewksbury then gave himself up for lost. He seized his fur cap and wound it around his face, so as to cover his eyes and hide the dreadful view of approaching death. At this time the railroad bridge above him was one mass of fire and heavy burning timbers were falling all about him.

Having leaned back resignedly to what seemed his fearful fate, his hopes of life were renewed by hearing voices. He unwound his fur cap, and saw the engineer and the fireman close at hand. He called to them frantically for assistance, which they proffered at once. Seizing hold of him his rescuers sought to pull him out, but failed. Thinking that his was a hopeless case, they were about to leave him and help others but he begged them to try again and to break his leg if necessary. They did so and managed to get him out breaking a leg and an arm in the effort. The flames were so close upon Mr Tewksbury that his clothing was burned from his body.

WORK AT THE WRECK

A gang of seventy-five men has been working this morning through holes in the ice, raising portions of the wrecked train from the bottom of the river and searching for bodies which may yet be among the ruins. Thus far no bodies have been recovered. Nearly all signs of the terrible disaster have disappeared, except the gaping space between the piers of the bridge. Trains are running regularly to either end of the bridge. The condition of the wounded is about the same.

The civil authorities of Hartford Vt., have assumed charge of the remains of the victims and their personal effects, so far as found. It is now learned that Mrs Wm Danoe, of Winooski, Vt., was lost. One of the board of selectmen of Hartford says that in his opinion the bodies of forty six persons killed have thus far been taken from the wreck, although this is not by actual count. Isaac Gates, undertaker, says thirty-two bodies have been brought to his care seven of which have been identified and removed and perhaps five are susceptible of identification.

The chief of the engineering department of Dartmouth college, who has made a close examination of the track leading to the bridge, says that where the rails were torn up at the point where the car Pilgrim probably left the track, these rails all show signs of defects in material and in construction. Prof. Fletcher thinks an axle on the car Pilgrim broke causing its derailment, and that that was the only car which left the track until the bridge was reached.

LABOR TROUBLES.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The river fronts and neighboring streets presented a Sunday appearance this morning. Monday is usually the busiest day of the week at the docks but there was no blockade of Belt line cars to-day. Not more than one-quarter of the usual number of trucks which block and choke South and West streets were out. Most of the piers were open to receive freight but little came as compared with anti strike times. The prospect of a settlement is remote each side being confident of coming out of the trouble victor. Both sides promise remarkable developments this week but are dark about their nature.

On the Clyde line dock, East river, the steamer Clyde sailed some hours later than her schedule time but carried a full cargo and her quota of passengers. The Seminole, of this line, also carried a full cargo and her quota of passengers. The superintendent declared that he was getting along very well.

Men who apply for work at the Mallory line dock are being turned away by the hundred. Another steamer is expected to-day, and there are plenty of men ready to work on her.

The Ward line dock is clear of freight and deserted. Two boats are expected to-day or to-morrow and then the company will have plenty of help to discharge their cargoes.

On the Continental line dock plenty of freight was being delivered and the whole bulkhead was lined with trucks. The New Haven freight line and the Hartford line were doing more business than Saturday also.

STREET CAR STRIKE AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Feb 7.—Employes of the South Boston horse railway at a meeting which lasted until 3 o'clock this morning voted unanimously to tie up the road to-day. In pursuance of this vote no cars were taken out this morning. This is one of the largest horse railways in the city. The men are opposed to the present superintendent and want only ten hours work.

The track layers and car repairers of the South Boston road have joined the strikers. There has been no trouble as yet. The strikers are behaving in a very orderly manner. No cars have been taken out up to noon.

GREAT LOCKOUT AT PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Feb 7.—This morning the clothing exchange carried out its threat and both [illegible] manufacturers composing that body closed their doors to the cutters. The latter are defiant and determined to fight their employers to the end. The lockout throws 1000 cutters out of work and fully ten times that number of others who depend upon them for employment.

STRIKE AT JERSEY CITY

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb 7.—Over 200 men employed in the Thompson steel works have quit work and the factory is idle. Walking delegates forced them out because "scab" coal was being used in the furnaces. An attempt was made to order out the hands in Matthewsen & Weicher's sugar refinery this morning and the walking delegates were ordered off the premises.

RAILROAD NOTES.

OPERATIONS OF THE NORTHERN PACIFIC FOR SIX MONTHS

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The Financial and Commercial Chronicle prints an elaborate review of the business of the Northern Pacific for the first half of the fiscal year ending June 30 1887 which shows that after the payment of operating expenses and all charges against the earnings the company had a surplus of $826 920 against a surplus of [illegible] for the six months ending December 31 1885 and [illegible] in 1884. A statement is also given showing the funded debt outstanding January 1 1887 to be $74 453 871. It was [illegible] July 1 1886 and $72 684 321 on January 1 1886. The increase in the funded debt represents newly constructed road and added equipment. The amount of preferred bonds outstanding January 1 was [illegible] against [illegible] on January 1 [illegible] and $39 266,8[illegible] on January 1 1886.

THREATENED BY A MOB

BALTIMORE, Feb [illegible].—Anderson Perry (colored), accused of participating in the murder of Emily Brown, an old white woman was released from prison at 11 o'clock to-day and went to a house in [illegible] alley a short distance from the Maryland University of Medicine where he was employed. As soon as his appearance in the neighborhood was known the house where he stopped was surrounded by several hundred colored people who threatened to take his life as soon as he made his appearance in the street. A squad of police dispersed the crowd but the people are armed, and for some time at least it will be dangerous for Perry to go out alone. They fully believe that he has murdered many persons and sold their bodies for dissection.

MANNING AND HIS NEW POSITION

NEW YORK, Feb 7.—The Star's Albany correspondent says: Among Mr Manning's friends here it is known that he has definitely decided to accept the presidency of the Western National bank despite reports to the contrary. The conclusion was reached only two days ago after correspondence with friends who enjoy his confidence. The new company have signed a lease for five years with the Equitable Life Assurance company, from May next, and will occupy the entire first floor of the northeast corner of the building. For this it will pay $18 000 a year. Secretary Manning, who will not leave the cabinet until after the adjournment of congress, will be [illegible] months trip abroad to arrange the bank's European exchange and during his absence Mr. Jordan will act as president of the bank, and Mr Conda as vice-president. Secretary Manning is to receive a salary of $15,000 for the first year, and a percentage of the profits. After that new arrangements will be entered into.

THE RIVER FALLING AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 7.—At noon the river is falling at the rate of half an inch an hour, and the danger of a repetition of the disastrous floods of 1883 '84 is considered past. The weather is clear and warm.

CINCINNATI, Feb 7.—The river continues to recede gradually having declined to 54 feet 11 inches at noon to-day. The weather is cloudy but not rainy and so long as this continues there is no danger of a flood.

CLEARING HOUSE RETURNS.

BOSTON, Feb 6.—A table compiled from reports received from the managers of the leading clearing houses of the United States gives gross exchanges for the week ending February 5, 1887, as compared with those of the corresponding week. Total, $[illegible] 476,016, an increase of 5.5 per cent.

Canadian Pacific Workshops Burned—The Blockade Continues—Etc.

VICTORIA, Feb 7.—The Canadian Pacific workshops at Yale, B. C., were totally consumed by fire at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been a spark from a passing locomotive. Loss $100,000.

The Canadian Pacific is still blockaded. There has been no through mail for twelve days. It is unknown when one will get through. Letters are being sent by American railroads.

The Fraser river is frozen almost to the mouth, and navigation is closed. There is several inches of ice at the Port Moody wharf terminus of the C. P. R. R. Telegraph lines have been down in all directions for a week. The late fierce storm has stopped communication everywhere. Six above zero was the lowest in Victoria, with sleighing and skating.

The legislature adjourned for the week, on account of poor accommodations in the chamber. They were literally frozen out. The weather now is moderating.

The price of coal in Victoria rose from $8 to $10 per ton. It is probable that there will be a rise in the price of meat. A great scarcity in the market is reported. There is a great loss of stock on the interior ranges.

STATE DISPATCHES.

A FRUITLESS SEARCH FOR THE DAWN.

ASTORIA, Feb 7.—The steamer Manzanita returned to-day from a cruise outside in search of the steam scow Dawn, which drifted over the bar Thursday last. Capt. Gregory made a long and faithful but unsuccessful search up and down the coast 100 miles. The Dawn must have crossed the bar safely as when last seen Thursday evening she was off McKenzie head. As nothing has been seen or heard of the steamer or the men since, they are doubtless lost. Al. Church and John Harmon, the only men aboard, were well known and highly respected old residents. Harmon leaves a young wife sister of his unfortunate companion, who was single.

THE CLARA PARKER WRECKED.

ASTORIA, Feb. 7.—The steamer Clara Parker was attempting to reach D. K. Warren's ranch on Shipanon creek with a load of cattle for him, when the ice knocked a hole in the bottom of the steamer. She sank, and is now frozen in. The cattle were released, and clambered ashore and over the dyke without loss.

LIBEL SUIT AGAINST "THE OREGONIAN."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 7.—Cornelius J. Murphy has sued the Portland OREGONIAN to recover $50 000 damages for libel. Plaintiff alleges that on the 29th of January last defendant published an article stating that plaintiff had committed a number of forgeries in Portland and was sent to the penitentiary and pardoned out by the governor, and had secured a position as day inspector in the San Francisco custom house. Defendant is charged with saying: "If that is the kind of stock they want for custom officers then our penitentiary can furnish a full supply."

ENGLAND.

THE DAY IN PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, Feb 7.—Sir James Fergusson, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, stated in the house of commons this evening that correspondence between Great Britain and the United States relative to the Canadian fisheries question would, in a short time, be laid before parliament. The correspondence, he said, contains full information about the history of the whole affair, down to the present date. A dispatch from the dominion government, containing suggestions as to the modus vivendi between Canada and the United States is now on its way to London. The imperial government could not, therefore, send proposals to Washington until the Canadian dispatch was received and considered.

Parnell moved his amendment to the address in reply to the queen's speech. The amendment is as follows:

"The relations between the owners and occupiers of land in Ireland have not been seriously disturbed in the cases of those who granted their tenants such abatements as were demanded by the prices of agricultural and pastoral products. The remedy for the crisis in Irish agrarian affairs is to be found not in increased stringency of criminal proceedings, or in pursuit of such doubtful and unconstitutional measures as those recently taken by her majesty's government, but in such reform of law as will satisfy the needs and secure the confidence of the Irish people."

Mr Parnell maintained that if the bill for stopping evictions which he introduced last session had been passed the condition of Ireland would be greatly improved. The operations of the measure would have effectually prevented the present disturbed relation between landlords and tenants. The blame for the present serious position of Irish domestic affairs rested with the government. The government, despite this seemed about to renew the mistake of attempting coercion in Ireland. The speaker solemnly warned the government, if they again tried coercion they would fail, as they always failed when trying that policy.

MARK LANE REVIEW

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade during the past week says: The condition of English wheat offered has shown no improvement and as a result there have been slow sales and lower values, both in London and the provinces. The sales of English wheat during the week were 44,300 quarters at 34s 4d against 67,477 quarters at 29s 9d during the corresponding period last year. It is estimated that deliveries of English wheat from the beginning of the cereal year 1886 have been 18 per cent. under those for the same period in 1885 86. Country flour is sixpence lower. Trade in foreign wheat is stagnant. Arrivals have been heavy, and stocks are increasing at Liverpool, Bristol and London. Australian shipments are commencing and the new crop of the Argentine Republic Chili and India will be soon on the way here. Therefore, if peace is maintained there will be no change for higher values. Flour is dull at unchanged quotations. Corn hardened and prices have advanced 3 pence. Oats are firmer and have recovered 4 pence. To-day English wheat was in bad condition, and very difficult of sale. Corn was dull. Oats were 3 pence dearer. Barley and peas were unchanged.

LONDON WOOL SALES

LONDON, Feb 7.—At the wool sales to-day more confidence was shown. The market was firmer and good selections were offered. The details are as follows:

THE TROUBLE IN THE SOUDAN

ROME, Feb 7.—The Italian commander at Massowah reported that Rasolula has summoned the Italians to quit all their advanced posts, and to limit their occupation to Massowah. The Abyssinians hold Salelbiri an Italian engineer as a hostage. The latter was threatened with death, and begged the Italian commander to come to an agreement with Rasolula. The commander replied that he was unable to do so, the Italian forts were intended for the protection of caravans, and he was ready to resist the Abyssinians.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY FEBRUARY 8 1887.

WEAKNESS HAS BECOME STRENGTH.

Alabama will soon be a rich state. Birmingham, Montgomery Florence, Decatur, Sheffield and Anniston are illustrations of its wonderful growth New companies are organizing everywhere in the state to purchase lands, work mines and establish furnaces. Subscription books have been opened for the Decatur Land Improvement and Furnace company with an authorized capital of $7,500,000. New railroads are to connect the town with Rome, on the one side, and Cairo on the other The industrial revival and improvement that began with Atlanta and Chattanooga has spread all over the mineral region of Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee. Knoxville is not far behind Chattanooga. Her population has risen from 15,000 in 1882 to over 30,000 During the last ten years she has spent $2,000 000 for new buildings. She has an annual commerce of $30,000 000, Northern capital has taken hold of her iron mines and her magnificent deposits of marble A single iron company has a monthly pay roll of $10 000, and makes an output of nails, rails etc., worth $500,000. The city has the largest woolen mill in the South, and thirty marble companies The marble is quarried and placed on the cars at a cost of from $5 to $6 per ton, and in the market finds a ready sale at from $20 to $50 per ton. A company, composed of Boston, New York and Southern capitalists, is now building the Charleston, Chicago & Cincinnati railroad through a country rich in coal, iron and marble deposits, and 102 miles of it are already completed and in operation. The southern terminus will be at Charleston, S. C From Camden, a few miles above Charleston, a branch will be built to Georgetown, S. C., where seaport advantages said to be equal to any on the Atlantic coast are obtainable. The important towns through which the road will run are Lancaster, Yorkville, Black Station, where the Atlanta Air-Line road intersects; Shelby, Rutherford, Marion, on the Western North Carolina road, Johnson City, on the East Tennessee road and through Scott and Wise counties, Virginia and the valley of the Big Sandy river to Ashland, the northern terminus, where six railroads intersect. The entire length of the new road will be about 600 miles, and will cost, it is estimated, about $24,000,000

One result of this wonderful industrial growth is the insignificant fact that Tennessee, that cast but 93,000 republican votes in the state election of 1882 against 125,250 democratic, in the last state election cast about 110 000 republican votes against 126,000 democratic, that is, in four years the democratic majority has been cut down from 32,000 to 16,000, and Gen. Wilder, a native Tennesseean, and a large iron manufacturer, predicts that in less than ten years at least five of the Southern states will give republican majorities. Gen. Wilder says

Manufacturing towns are rapidly springing up in the midst of the vast coal and mineral deposits of the Carolinas, Virginia, Georgia, Eastern Tennessee and Northern Alabama, and wherever a furnace or mill is erected its influence in wiping out a democratic majority is felt almost immediately "We are tired of sentimental politics the people are saying, "and now we propose to give our support to the party which takes care of our business interests."

Whether these states go republican or not this tremendous industrial growth, this influx of Northern capital, Northern ideas, methods, etc., will energize and illuminate public opinion so that the grossest social and civic evils of Southern civilization will be abated if not cured. The negro's labor will be in sharper demand his wages will rise he will be better treated by the planter when agriculture has to compete with manufactures for his labor he will begin to save something to get a little land, and when the negro rises from the condition of mere pauper labor he will increase in that sort of influence that ensures him increased protection for his civil and political rights. It is a long night yet before him, but the negro has more to hope for from the industrial awakening and growth of the South than any class in her borders, because, with the rise of his industrial consequence, he can compel more humane treatment. Competition for his labor will secure him more consideration than he has had in the past, when he could only look to the planter for employment and be content with the bone cast to the hungry, homeless and houseless dog. The negro will always be the chief labor of the South. Foreign emigrants either stick in the large cities of the East or push for the unoccupied lands of the West. White labor will never be a very large element at the South. The negro endures the heat of the iron mills and furnaces well and takes kindly to the labor of the mines, and he need not fear competition from immigrant white labor It is interesting to reflect that slavery, which the South once cherished as the corner-stone of her prosperity, was really her most fatal weakness, since under the old slave system of purely agricultural labor the immense wealth of the South in iron, coal and marble was so little developed that it proved her fatal military weakness in war. Suppose the South in 1861 was the South of to-day suppose she had then the iron mills and furnaces she has to-day, would she not have been doubly armed for battle? The negro in slavery was her weakness with her mines unworked and her iron a buried talent but to-day under the inspiration and example of the methods of free industry her mines are open her iron is fed to a hundred furnaces and mills, and the negro is becoming a source of industrial strength instead of weakness It was money in the pockets of the South to be beaten [illegible] the conqueror that has [illegible] the [illegible] where the real wealth [illegible] lay buried [illegible] a rich blessing [illegible] defeat which opened the way [illegible] victory [illegible] be richer and happier [illegible] She will be rich [illegible] weakness in war [illegible] because by some [illegible] magician [illegible] had been changed to black marble [illegible] the death of slavery the lower limbs of the South are once more become flesh and blood she lives and moves and marches on with the springing step of new and splendid activity

PARNELL

Parnell is said to be suffering with a alarming disease, and his condition alarms his friends His death would be a severe blow to home rule The home rule party includes a number of eloquent, able and scholarly Irishmen, but nobody equal to Parnell in the statesmanship of courage, coolness, discretion and self possession Justin McCarthy is a man of fine critical abilities and philosophical temper but he has never yet manifested the gift of leadership Parnell fairly won the complete confidence of Ireland, and no other man ever possessed it to an equal degree save O Connell, and even O Connell lost it largely in his last days after the failure of his movement for repeal in 1843 44

Parnell's Yankee head he has from his mother and it has always ruled his Irish heart so completely that he never lost his self poise or became "rattled" when his ablest lieutenants were wild with excitement. He seems to have finally adopted the views of John Francis Maguire who was the able pioneer of the home rule movement in the British parliament as early as March, 1868. Maguire was a man of high character, an able man and an accomplished journalist. He always held that the geographical situation of England and Ireland rendered a separation of the two countries impossible. He had often expressed his belief that even in event of a war between England and some foreign power, and even in the event of England's losing temporary possession of Ireland, one of the conditions of peace which the foreign power would promptly accept, would be the handing back of Ireland to Great Britain, because its nearness to England would make its possession as expensive as the elephant is to the man who wins it in a raffle. Peace without surrendering Ireland back to Great Britain would be as absurd as it would be for England to make war on the United States, seize Washington territory, and then undertake to keep it under a treaty of peace which left the Columbia river completely under the control of the United States. Maguire, therefore, always said the separation of Ireland and England was not to be seriously thought of for a moment, but quoted Grattan as saying that "if the ocean forbade separation, the sea denied union" He was in favor of a domestic legislature for Ireland, and condemned the Fenian movement as strongly as he had the "Young Ireland" farcical insurrection of 1848. Maguire had refused office from both the great parties he was a speaker of great power, and it was in answer to his powerful appeal for reform in Irish affairs that Gladstone was persuaded to disestablish the Irish church Parnell has never had the confidence of the English parliament and people as completely as Maguire, but he has had what Maguire never secured—the enthusiastic support of the Irish people, with whom Maguire was never very popular, because, while ardent in his national sympathies, he was strongly opposed to any movement of a seditious or violent character Parnell has been what Maguire never was—an artful obstructionist and filibuster in parliament—but his latest utterances indicate that the extremity of his desires would be satisfied with what Maguire pleaded for in 1868 and Gladstone was willing to grant in 1886

Parnell is a remarkable man, and he is sure of an honorable place in the history of his country for he is the only real leader of public opinion in Ireland since O Connell, and the leadership that O'Connell secured and so long maintained by his extraordinary eloquence, Parnell won by his genius of political management, for the gift of eloquence is not among his native or acquired abilities Gladstone is so old that he cannot be counted upon for much further active leadership in parliament, and the death of Parnell would be a serious blow to the cause of home rule. With Gladstone dead or in retirement, home rule would have no able leadership in England, and with Parnell dead, Ireland would be sorely troubled to make good the place of her lost leader, for John Morley is not Gladstone, nor Healey, Parnell With Parnell's death the movement would either languish or, worse, would probably be injured by reckless counsels and precipitate action The counsel and temper of Justin McCarthy would be as statesmanlike as that of Gladstone, but he has no eloquence and is an able and wise political critic, rather than a practical political manager and executive

THE O. R. & N. LEASE

It is the opinion of several persons that the importance of the subject justifies republication of the annexed article from THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN It is republished, therefore, in compliance with their request

What is proposed for the Union Pacific is simply to allow it to enter Oregon. The company makes no conditions asks no concessions, demands no exemptions wants no subsidies It expresses perfect willingness to accept any requirements that may be proposed by the state as to compliance with its laws and submission to the authority of its courts. It is entirely willing to accept the conditions stated in the amendments to the bill as reported to the senate and these amendments reserve to the state all its powers of jurisdiction over the roads to be leased The Union Pacific simply wants the legislature to pass an act that will legalize its effort to obtain by lease a continuous line into Oregon so that it may rid itself and the state of the hindrances and losses resulting from connection at the eastern boundary of the state with a line of road under another management No exemption of tax is asked no favor of any kind is solicited What is requested is a simple act of legislation under which a business transaction involving thirty millions of dollars and vital to the development of the state may be legalized

The O R & N itself has never had aid or favor from the state or from the general government. It is the only road in Oregon—the narrow gauge lines excepted—which has not had aid and favor It has had no grant of lands it has asked no exemption from taxes The lines were built with private capital subscribed and paid in and their construction laid no burden upon the public

It is said that the principal objections to the proposed lease are made by or at the instance of the Oregon Pacific The reason why this company opposes it are entirely plain Indeed the spokesmen for the Oregon Pacific at Salem say plainly that they oppose it because they do not want so strong a company as the Union Pacific to identify itself with the development of Oregon The Union Pacific, if it takes this lease of the O R & N will build branches throughout Eastern Oregon Now the Oregon Pacific is going over the mountains into Eastern Oregon and it wants no other railway lines in that field Hence the opposition.

The builders and managers of the Oregon Pacific have shown pluck and energy and are entitled to credit therefor It is gratifying to take note of what they have done and still more of what they promise to do Their undertaking is an important one and they have succeeded in making its importance appreciated The Oregon Pacific has long complained and with justice as the sequel proved that others stood unfairly in its way and it should not now stand unfairly in the way of others It has been favored by the state with a valuable grant of lands and by exemption from taxation It should not now try to block the way to those who have had neither and ask neither And though we greatly hope to see it push its line over the mountains into Middle Oregon this year yet we cannot say that we wish it to be the only railway to enter that great field

Let the Union Pacific come into Oregon and the activities of the state will be wonderfully stimulated Branch roads will be built the trade of the state will be taken care of [illegible] the roads north and south of us [illegible] will be built and operated [illegible] extensive [illegible] a market will be opened towards [illegible]

[illegible] INTEMPERANCE

[illegible] committee of the legislature of Massachusetts [illegible] hypocrisy [illegible] He respected the discretion of the individual who abstained from it either from fear of being tempted beyond self control or for example to others in danger, but he demanded equal respect for his own discretion He believed that law has of itself no reforming power that while it may punish and terrify it cannot convert. He argued that "only in the strife and actual conflict of life—natural, human and free—can virtue be attained or positive good accomplished He described the experiment of society entrusting the keeping of its virtue to the criminal law as the effete blunder of antiquated despotisms tried by so many nations and ages and always resulting in failure and defeat To the proposition that drunkenness is the parent cause of nearly all our social woes that against its ravages it is impossible to maintain a successful moral war, he answered that moral philosophy, human experience and history all command a respectful dissent to these dogmas Reason, experience and history all unite to prove that while drunkenness lies in near relation with poverty and other miseries and is very often their proximate cause it is not true that it is the parent or essential cause, without which they would not have been He declared that a hard climate much exposure, little variety of food and great want of culinary skill, few amusements, the absence of light, cheering beverages, a sense of care and responsibility cultivated intensely and the prevalence of ascetic and gloomy theories of life, duty and providence have, in time past all combined to increase the perils of the people from the seductive narcotic A man whose virtue was weak, or whose discouragements were great, or whose burdens were heavy, or in whom the spirit waged unequal war with the allurements of the flesh, or even one in whom a certain native gayety strove with the unwelcome exactions of the elders, was often easily its victim" From this statement Andrew proceeded to define "independence, intelligence self respect, broader views kinder and tenderer sympathies the cultivation of the finer tastes, the love and appreciation of beauty, a truer humanity, better social theories" as the potent influences that had gradually been made instrumental in the deliverance of the people from the bondage of intemperance "The evil of drunkenness he declared needed to be met by a gracious gospel kindling the heart, not by a crushing sense of guilt goading the conscience He described the original movement for temperance reformation as "a true and genuine gospel work a mission of love and hope that, while it held fast by its original simplicity, while it pleaded with Christ like self forgetfulness and sought out the generosity of all embracing charity, while it twined itself around the heart strings and jubilantly persuaded the erring, or with an honest boldness rebuked with ut anger—it was strong in the Lord and in the power of its might but when it passed out of the hands of its evangelists and passed into the hands of the centurion and the hirelings when it became a part of the capital of political speculation and went into the jugglery of the caucus when men voted to lay abstinence as a burden on their neighbors, while they felt no duty of such abstinence themselves (even under the laws of their own creation when the gospel the Christian church and the ministers of religion were yoked to the car of a political triumph then it became the victim of one of the most ancient and most dangerous of the delusions of history"

The consequence of this great argument was that Massachusetts at her next September election completely changed her policy on this question, and substituted for prohibition her present policy of license and local option, and never since has receded from it. This was the philosophy of one of the purest men that ever lived a man so temperate and frugal in his habits of living that he could toil tremendously all day and all night during the war for weeks, with only a few hours rest, and return to his office fresh and smiling to find all his subordinates languid and fretful with fatigue In the five years of official life, from January, 1861, to 1866 Andrew did the work that an ordinary man hardly performs in fifty years, with a disease that he inherited and had manifested itself before he became governor Andrew could not have done this work if he had not been a man of simple temperate life He was a poor man, he gave no dinner parties he cared for no banquets, he was not pleading for his own private vices when he exposed the erroneous philosophy of prohibition and exalted moral suasion and increased application of spiritual influences to our social state He was tireless in his life long efforts for prison reform for the humanizing of all public charities and corrections, for the spread of popular education, and all that makes for increased humanity and morality in the conduct of life That so great a man, so pure a man, so tender and sympathetic a man as John A. Andrew did not feel deeply interested in the abatement of intemperance will not be pretended for a moment, but he was too great a man, too wise and experienced a statesman to repeat the errors of the past, to spend his brains in the work of dropping the bucket of reform into the empty well of prohibition and drawing nothing up Evil was to be met by wisdom, not by folly no moral end ever reconciled him to the employment of means that he felt were instinct with ignorance, intolerance, impracticability and injustice He knew that collectively you cannot by law force a moral conviction on individuals or a conviction on others that you do not absolutely embody in your own conduct He knew that damming a stream does not stop it he knew that to make a law to stop the sale of a poison that the majority of lawmakers do not believe to be a poison, or act as if they do not believe it to be such, was a fraud in spirit and a tyranny in action he knew, as a profound and experienced criminal lawyer, that it is absurd to try and delude law with morals that the effort did not help morals, while it hurt law He knew better than to "formulate the sentimental consciousness of the majority into a statute which shall attempt not simply to punish men for violations of peace and order, but to make morals for the minority He knew that there is plenty of poverty and crime in countries where wine and beer and whisky are unknown He knew, as Francis Murphy says, that "if legislation could save a people Moses would have been the Christ," and therefore he chose to abate intemperance with the spiritual methods and teachings of Christ rather than in the methods of politics and the spear of the statute that was the staff of Moses. The club of Hercules was a tremendous weapon, but it took Hercules to wield it. Without Hercules behind it it was as harmless as a straw Prohibition is the club of Hercules without the Hercules of public opinion behind it, and if public opinion was behind it there would be no use for the club, because when men generally believe that nobody has any business to buy rum it will not pay to keep rum for sale

McGLYNN'S DEFIANCE.

In Henry George's paper the Standard Dr Edward M Glynn published on Friday a statement of his controversy with Archbishop Corrigan of New York and with the propaganda at Rome growing out of his own political action and the attempt of his spiritual superiors to administer discipline to him therefor McGlynn publishes the correspondence between himself and the archbishop which shows that for several years the higher authorities of the church have been displeased with his doctrine about land and with his speeches thereon and also that displeasure was expressed because he McGlynn) spoke at a meeting in March [illegible] at which Rev Howard Crosby was present and over which Henry Ward Beecher presided The archbishop protested against such association of a Catholic priest with Crosby who had insulted us all by saying that our country would rise against the Roman ists if [illegible] but because we simply asked that our poor children be permitted according to the constitution to worship God with liberty of conscience [illegible] to the archbishop that the crisis in which he was engaged did not permit him to decline to speak at the meeting though Beecher presided over it An account is given in some detail by the doctor of the efforts of the archbishop to prevent him from supporting Henry George shortly after [illegible] Rome to [illegible] his doctrine [illegible] McGlynn concludes his account with this [illegible] statement

I affirm [illegible] that I said in the letter [illegible] I [illegible] duty [illegible] surrender the rights of a man and a [illegible] right of bishop propaganda or pope [illegible] for my actions as a man and a [illegible] municipal [illegible] I deny the right [illegible] clearly contrary [illegible] teachings of the Christ [illegible] They have no [illegible] know that they cannot show it. I have [illegible] to Rome from the judgment of [illegible] and I have no desire to do so [illegible] propaganda or pope [illegible] Rome The vow of obedience [illegible] which [illegible] absurd things [illegible] in the last few [illegible] is simply a promise to obey church authorities in matters concerning the priest's duty of religion It were monstrous to imagine that this promise has other than a clear and defined limitation My obligation taken as a student of the propaganda was not [illegible] to engage, to go wherever and to do whatever that institution should see fit to command but [illegible] to return to my native place and there devote my self to the ministry of religion In an interview published in the World during the late municipal canvass I took occasion, from "Monsignor" Preston's political letter to admonish him and other ecclesiastical dignitaries, of the grave danger of repeating the folly and shame of condemning scientific truth as religious heresy a shame and folly of which their predecessors had been guilty in the condemnation of Galileo and Copernicus [illegible] that they are fated to repeat this crime and blunder and to add another to the many reasons that have made men look upon ecclesiastical authority as one of the greatest foes of scientific progress of rational development of liberty and in a large part a hindrance rather than a help in the way of bringing to the whole world the light the purity and the comfort that came from the teachings and the ministrations of Christ

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN W T

OLYMPIA Feb 6 1887

[illegible] EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] excitement over the decision of the supreme [illegible] the matter of woman suffrage still contin[illegible] all along the Sound. [illegible] as can be learned the majority of women [illegible] to be satisfied with the decision, and are [illegible] to have the matter to a vote of the entire [illegible] but of course there are also dissatisfied [illegible] who grumble about the loss of their rights [illegible] That the question could have been left no [illegible] by the supreme court or to use a vulgar [illegible] that it might have been "dodged," there [illegible] question, but Judge Turner having already ex[illegible] an opinion on the subject at a previous [illegible] court, and now having a case from Judge [illegible] court, it was only necessary to obtain the [illegible] of Judge Langford to make a decision [illegible] decision it is and will remain although Judg[illegible] seems to think to the contrary The law [illegible] which authorized the appointment of four [illegible] this territory also allowed three to form [illegible] and two became major ty where one wa[illegible] as in the case of Harlan vs. The Terr[illegible]

[illegible] bad of course to see that a thieving [illegible] game should result in such a sweeping [illegible] but this is one of the things no fellow [illegible]

[illegible] however, to be a general impression [illegible] if women had been satisfied with the [illegible] which was the only power the legis[illegible] of 1883 meant to convey without seeking to [illegible] themselves into notoriety by sitting on juries [illegible] their way into the political arena the [illegible] would be far more satisfactory in every way [illegible] an unpleasant scene would have been [illegible]

[illegible] well known that the woman jury system has [illegible] trouble in more than one family in this ter[illegible] and has led to the bitterest feelings be[illegible] husband and wife, which is something tha[illegible] deplored in any case.

[illegible] women have lost the right to vote is some[illegible] be regretted by all who are interested in [illegible] welfare of the territory but, as Judge Turner [illegible] opinion, says it is something that can be re[illegible] to them by a coming legislature so they [illegible] put their shoulders to the wheel and see [illegible] next act passed shall be one that will [illegible] closest scrutiny and with public opinion [illegible] favor they will be placed in a position [illegible] which they can not easily be removed [illegible] Justice Greene feels very sore over the de[illegible] and had not the court been limited as to [illegible] was his intention to have filed a dissenting [illegible] which would probably have thrown [illegible] of light on the subject.

[illegible] amount of business transacted by the su[illegible] court at the recent term was more than [illegible] that of any previous term and if the legis[illegible] of 1885 had had any sense the time for its [illegible] would have been placed at two months [illegible] of one As it is all the cases of the Third [illegible] had to be continued to July to the detri[illegible] all interested

[illegible] fine arrangement by the legislature was [illegible] of the term of the court in January [illegible] was well known that the legislature will [illegible] meet in that month next year and as the [illegible] court meets in the capitol in close prox[illegible] the territorial library the confusion at th[illegible] session will be extreme Probably the court [illegible] to hold its session in the old tumble [illegible] building erroneously styled "the court house [illegible] that be the case there will be some tal[illegible] among the legal fraternity W. WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN W. T

OLYMPIA Feb 6 18[illegible]

O THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The excitement over the decision of the supreme urt in the matter of woman suffrage still contin s unabated all along the Sound

As far as can be learned the majority of women emed to be satisfied with the decision and are ntent to leave the matter to a vote of the entire rritory but of course there are also dissatisfied es, who grumble about the loss of their rights e That the question could have been left un lved by the supreme court or, to use a vulgar rase, that it might have been "dodged" there is question, but Judge Turner having already ex essed an opinion on the subject at a previous rm of court and now having a case from Judge oyt's court, it was only necessary to obtain the nction of Judge Langford to make a decision d a decision it is and will remain although Judge ennison seems to think to the contrary The law seems, which authorized the appointment of four dges in this territory, also allowed three to form quorum, and two became majority where one was barred, as in the case of Harlan vs The Terri ry

It is too bad, of course, to see that a thieving m bling game should result in such a sweeping evolution, but this is one of the things no fellow n find out.

t eems, however, to be a general impression re that if women had been satisfied with the ower to vote which was the only power the legis ture of last ment to convey without seeking to ah themselves into notoriety by sitting on juries, d pushing their way into the political arena the sult would be far more satisfactory in every way d many an unpleasant scene would have been evented,

It is well known that the woman jury system has used trouble in more than one family in this ter ory, and has led to the bitterest feelings be een husband and wife, which is something that st be deplored in any case.

That women have lost the right to vote is some ing to be regretted by all who are interested in e welfare of the territory, but, as Judge Turner, his opinion, says, it is something that can be re ored to them by a coming legislature so they ave only to put their shoulders to the wheel and see at the next act passed shall be one that will ear the closest scrutiny and with public opinion their favor, they will be placed in a position om which they can not easily be removed

Chief Justice Greene feels very sore over the de sion and had not the court been limited as to me, it was his intention to have filed a dissenting pinion, which would probably have thrown a ood deal of light on the subject.

The amount of business transacted by the su reme court at the recent term was more than ouble that of any previous term, and if the legis ture of 1886 had had any sense the time for its ansaction would have been placed at two months stead of one. As it is, all the cases of the Third strict had to be continued to July, to the detri ent of all interested.

Another fine arrangement by the legislature was e placing of the term of the court in January, hen it was well known that the legislature will ave to meet in that month next year, and as the preme court meets in the capitol in close prox nity to the territorial library, the confusion at the xt session will be extreme. Probably the court ill have to hold its session in the old tumble own building erroneously styled "the court house" nd if that be the case there will be some tall wearing among the legal fraternity W H R

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

CROWDS COASTING.—Last night everybody that had a "bob," or that had any friend who had one, was out on one or another of the several coasting slides. The night was perfect, the moon was almost full and the clouds so light and feathery they did not obscure her light. The slides themselves were in the best of condition, the snow of Sunday night being sufficient to patch up the worn places and make them better than ever. Hearing that everybody, fearing the night to be their last chance, would be out in full force, an OREGONIAN man in quest of a stray item or two, a fractured leg or arm or broken head—something of that nature—made the round of the various coasting resorts. The stretch of slide on Jefferson street, from Seventh to Third, was the most popular. As early as 7 o'clock in the evening parties of two or more began arriving, and at midnight the festive fish horn and cow bell were still heard, as with a rush and whirl a "bob," loaded with eight or ten young people, would cross a street, and in a moment be lost to sight in a cloud of snow a block away The sidewalk on the north side of Jefferson seemed to be the favorite, and from Seventh street, half way down the block, a line of people on either side of the slide, were standing laughing. and giving each loaded "bob" a push and a word of advice. There were about 500 people counting the spectators, who were enjoying the sport, and forty or more bob-sleds whose owners would stand waiting their turn, and at intervals of about half a minute they would start, making a seemingly endless stream of rushing humanity Besides these about a hundred young free lances with hand-sleds would sandwich themselves in between the "bobs" While the slide seemed alive with coasters, the street was black with a long line of stragglers walking up to have another turn. After watching the sport for over an hour and not so much as a scratch being received by any of the merry makers, the other slides were visited. The one on College and Tenth streets was almost deserted. Down Eighth from Yamhill was represented by only a very few, but on B street from Eighth down there was another merry lot of coasters, who, by this time, were saying "Well, just this once more, and then I'll go home." Unless a Chinook comes along there will be rare sport again to-night, for the moon will be at her full.

ARRESTED FOR INCENDIARISM.—Yesterday Chief of Police Parrish and policemen Barry and Simmons visited East Portland and arrested Robert Byrnys, a well digger, Ilas Roberts, a one armed man, also a well digger, and Chas Gale, a milkman. They are charged with being implicated in the burning of W. S Ladd's barn in July last, and also with having had a hand in the outrages of blowing up buildings occupied by Chinese. Byrnys, who is a hang dog looking fellow, married a widow some years since and then drove her children away from home A month or so ago his wife left him on account of brutal treatment. She has given information to the authorities which implicates her husband and the others arrested with him, in the outrages above mentioned. The police yesterday searched his residence and found part of a keg of powder and a piece of iron pipe similar to what was used for holding the powder by which the Chinese buildings were blown up. William Beck's powder house was broken into and a lot of powder, etc, stolen. At a place some distance out of East Portland, where Byrnys lived, some time since the police discovered buried some flasks of powder, slow matches, etc, which are said to be a part of the stuff stolen from Beck's powder house It is known that Byrnys had a large quantity of rice in his house just after the Chinese were blown up, and a clock was found in his house yesterday which his wife says he took from a Chinese camp. Some damaging facts have been known to a number of people for some time, and there are a number of persons who can testify to them.

TAKES HOME A SOUVENIR.—Mr. Wm Cole, of Denver, Col., who has been visiting his brother, David Cole, of this city, for two or three weeks, leaves for home to-day. He carries with him as a trophy of his visit to this coast a very handsome sea otter skin, of which he became possessed in rather a singular manner He has always resided inland, having pitched his tent on the site of Denver before there was a building there, and had never seen the ocean, so his brother concluded to take him down to North Beach and show him the mighty Pacific. They drove away down to Loomis's place, and saw two whales on the beach and any amount of salt water, and coming back near the wreck of the Harvest Home, they saw a huge sea otter struggling in the surf. They seized it and dragged it ashore, and found that it had been wounded probably in a fight with some other marine animal It was six feet long and weighed about a hundred pounds. It died before they reached Astoria They brought the carcass home and had Capt. Douglas remove the skin and stretch and prepare it It is a perfect beauty, and worth at least $100 in the market. Mr Cole will probably tell a tale when he gets home which will lead his Denver friends to suppose that a man can take a drive along North Beach and load his buggy with whales, sea-otters, crabs and clams, and we may expect a large number of visitors from that section over the Union Pacific next summer, now that the lease bill has passed the legislature.

COUNTERFEITER ARRESTED.—For some time past it has been known that some one was uttering counterfeit dollars up through the valley but no clue to the counterfeiter could be obtained But at last a clue was found and it led up to one John Davenport, who was arrested by orders of U S Marshal Kelly and is now in the county jail Davenport is an old hand at this business, and was one of a gang of four counterfeiters who were captured here some three years ago, of whom one Rogers was the leader. They all confessed their guilt and in August, 1885, Davenport was sent to the penitentiary for two years He was discharged last May, and appears to have gone into the old business as soon as possible The dollars he made are very poor counterfeits, but he has succeeded in passing off quite a number of them From the best information the authorities can obtain he was alone in the job this time He may be the fellow, whose father told him when starting out in life "Make money, John make it honestly if you can, but make it" If he is, he is [illegible] strictly to the old man's advice He will probably go up for a longer term this time

RECOVERED COMMISSIONS. In the case of Green vs. The [illegible] Wagon Road [illegible] Deady yesterday [illegible] for the plaintiff in the sum of $[illegible] A full statement of the matter appeared in THE OREGONIAN a few [illegible] since Green sold the land grant of the wagon road company and was to receive $[illegible] commission A portion of the grant was conveyed and the money paid, and Green received $[illegible] commission. Later the purchaser failed and assigned his purchase to his creditors, who did not wish to take the remainder of the grant and a law suit was begun, which was ended by the remainder of the land [illegible] to other parties When Green demanded the [illegible] his commission it was refused on the ground that he had not made the final sale The court held that this sale was the result of the litigation growing out of this sale made by Green and was a final settlement of that sale, and allowed Green the remainder of his commission, minus his proportion of expenses, etc.

MODEST REQUEST. There are some people at the East who are ardent seekers after knowledge and don't appear to mind putting any one to some little trouble in their quest. For instance, a party from that section wrote to Surveyor General Taylor a few days since asking to be furnished with a list of the land open for settlement under the homestead and pre-emption laws in Oregon, accompanied by a description of the land, character of the soil, etc, etc, and also modestly asking for the same information in regard to Washington territory. As the request was not accompanied by a postage stamp and $1000, which is about what it would cost to furnish the desired information, the anxious inquirers will probably continue to burst with ignorance.

PORTLAND COMPOSER COMPLIMENTED.—The Boston Musical Herald has the following concerning some songs composed recently by Mr C C Fallenius of this city We have received four songs from the composer, previously unknown to us, but who exhibits considerable taste in his construction of melody, and whose works are very singable. The first, "Hope Comes Again," has a pleasant cradling motive, is tender and sympathetic, and lies well within middle voice The second, "Wishes and Fishes," is a convenient setting of one of Weatherley's sprightly poems with the usual waltz refrain, a la Wellings. The third, "At Last," is much better Chiefly in minor, it has yet a well wrought up climax, and the spirit of the work is well reflected in the music

BURGLAR BACK TO OLD QUARTERS.—Sheriff Jordan brought Charles H Ross from The Dalles yesterday. Ross is one of the four who a few weeks ago broke from the county jail and made good their escape The story of his capture near The Dalles has already been published. Ross is now confined in an iron tank, and will probably not get a chance to escape again He is very reticent, not being willing to give any particulars of his escape or subsequent wanderings in his vain attempt to get out of the country. He said, "I don't want to add to my grief at being recaptured by talking about it."

TWO MORE DIVORCES.—The first of the month brings up a new batch of cases for the divorce mill in department No 2, state circuit court. Frank F. Winters obtained a decree of divorce yesterday from Cora A. Winters, on the grounds of desertion and adultery The severed twain were married in this city in 1883 Charles F. Willis and Sarah M. Willis were married thirteen years ago in Clackamas county In February, 1885, Sarah M ran away with one Larry Harper, leaving her husband and three children. Charles F was yesterday granted a decree of divorce, on the grounds of desertion and adultery. He was also given the custody of the three children.

TAXES ORDERED PAID.—Judge Deady yesterday made a decree in the U. S. circuit court ordering that the O. R. & N. company pay the taxes on the Oregonian Railway company's lines. The receiver who represents both the O. R. & N. and the Oregonian Railway company, would pay the taxes if he had the money, but he has been obliged to expend so much to put the narrow gauge in repair that he has no money left. If the taxes are not paid the road will be sold and so Judge Deady deemed it advisable for the best interests of all concerned that the O. R. & N. company should pay the taxes and so ordered BRUTAL ASSAULT.—Yesterday afternoon a quarrel ensued on board the steamer Telephone as she was coming up the river, between Patrick O'Brien and an old sailor whose name could not be learned. O'Brien was very abusive and threatened the sailor's life. Finally the old tar went down to the main deck. O'Brien followed, pulled out a large Colt's revolver and beat the man over the head with it cutting four or five wounds from which the blood flowed freely This was near Kalama. When the boat reached St Helens, O'Brien got ashore He is a very tough tough, and formerly was a runner for Turk's boarding house.

DEMURRER OVERRULED.—The case of Eastman vs Clackamas county, a suit brought to recover damages for injuries incurred by the breaking down of a bridge while plaintiff was crossing it, came up in the U S. circuit court yesterday on demurrer to the complaint. The demurrer was overruled, the court holding that the county was liable if the accident happened through its neglect and that the statement in the complaint that the bridge was on a county road was sufficient, and that the supervisors were the agents of the county and if they did not attend to their duties the county was responsible.

SUIT SETTLED.—The suit brought against the city by Williams, the colored man, to recover $10,000 damages for injuries received by a fall on account of defective sidewalk, was dismissed in the state circuit court yesterday City Attorney Tanner does not know why the suit was dismissed, but supposes that the owner of the property in front of which Williams was hurt must have compromised the matter with Williams, as of course if the city had been mulcted for damages it would have fallen back on the owner of the property People will find it to their own advantage to keep their sidewalks in repair and save paying damages.

MILITIA ELECTION.—To-night K company, Oregon state militia, will hold an election to fill the vacancy of first lieutenant made by Lieut. E. R. Adams's promotion to regimental adjutant. The company have set apart the third Tuesday in each month as "dress drill" that is to say, every man must wear full fatigue uniform. Their armory is the Mechanics' pavilion, and any friends of the company, ladies or gentlemen, will be made welcome on dress drill nights.

EMMA ABBOTT

Sale of Reserved Seats for the Farewell Engagement to Begin this Morning

The sale of reserved seats for the return and farewell engagement of the Emma Abbott Grand Opera company begins this morning at D W Prentice's music store, and will continue up to the arrival of the company. Many have already bespoken chosen places and all should be on hand early, for the Abbott company are worthy liberal patronage and present to our citizens a class of opera never before heard here, and it will doubtless be some time before a similar opportunity will again be afforded us. Five different operas will be presented next week, opening on Monday in Lucia, Bride of Lammermoor," Tuesday, the popular "Bohemian Girl" Wednesday matinee at reduced prices, the brilliant comic opera "Crispino and the Fairy," and Wednesday night the charming romantic opera "Mignon," with three prima donnas, on Thursday, as a farewell, the beautiful opera "La Sonnambula" will be given, also the sparkling Brindisi from "Lucretia Borgia." Emma Abbott will sing in every performance supported by the entire company

To establish the grades of the streets N, P and Q at their intersections passed

Regulating the sale of liquors in East Portland that license be $[illegible] per quarter, first and second reading referred to committee on police and health.

MISCELLANEOUS

Mr Bodly made a verbal request for a deed in accordance with the action of the council some time ago The request was granted and the city attorney directed to draw up the deed

Moved and carried that the O & C R. R Co be notified to put in a culvert at Tenth and Van streets

Five new street lamps were ordered to be placed in position as follows One at Fourteenth and O streets, one on the I street bridge one at Eleventh and U, and two on the Fourth street bridge

The recorder was instructed to endeavor to procure a copy of the amendments to the city charter as passed by the legislature, and that a special meeting be called to examine the same The intention is to have this special meeting before the legislature finally adjourns.

The street commissioner reported that there were ten lamps, but no posts

Murphy moved that Merritt be authorized to procure posts for ten lamps and to place the five lamps ordered by the council in position, carried.

Mayor Raffety said he thought it would be advisable for the city engineer to examine the Fifth street bridge, and if found in a suitable condition for trade that it be thrown open to the public by the street commissioner, and notices put up prohibiting fast driving

On motion of Bloomer it was so ordered

Murphy moved that the street commissioner be authorized to put up gates at each end of Water street and procure padlocks and keys for them

Bloomer moved to amend by using the enclosure for the city pound No action taken

West asked that the street commissioner be taken to task for allowing Fritz Krantz to barricade a sidewalk

Street Commissioner Bartel in reply said he with pleasure referred to Col Taylor, as he was acting under his advice He had notified Krantz Mau[illegible] Kelly Sedan Eastman and Shannon and the time given them would be up to-morrow He said he could not be in all parts of the city at once and was walking on L street when the fence in question was erected

West here said he understood that the street commissioner was aware of Krantz's intentions

Street Commissioner Bartel said he had told Krantz he would have to remove it if complained to

Murphy said that this man had no place to put a cord of wood and as a sign was obscured which belonged to a Baptist friend of West, he wanted it [illegible]

West still wanted to know if the street commissioner had granted any permit for the barricade.

Street Commissioner Bartel said he had not. When the marshal made the complaint he did his duty and gave it immediate attention

Humphrey thought some action should be taken in regard to two stray horses

Murphy moved that West be appointed a committee of one and said he would be a valuable addition to the marshal in disposing of stray cattle No action

Murphy moved that the horses in question be driven out of the city limits No action

Merrick said that he understood that one of the horses, a bald faced sorrel had been purchased of Mr [illegible] and it would be an easy matter to find the owner

Time for city taxes was extended

THE SWAMP LAND MATTER

OAKLAND [illegible] Feb [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your issue of [illegible] your Washington correspondent [illegible] relative to the swamp land report of Agent Shackleford [illegible] I [illegible] to [illegible] correct information [illegible] But the report of Agent Shackleford does great injustice to certain [illegible] of the state swamp land claimants [illegible] Mr Peter French Your correspondent says

The affidavit [illegible] Peter French [illegible] large swamp land [illegible] as regards money paid directly or indirectly by him to Agent Ankeny is missing It appears to me the natural inference from this would be that Mr French had paid money directly or indirectly to Ankeny and that such payment was [illegible] the affidavit of Mr French [illegible] [illegible] the truth is as I have very good reason to assert from acquaintance with the facts acquired in the course of professional relations with Mr French he was given to understand that his land would be reported unfavorably unless he paid a [illegible] for a favorable report and he refused to do simply informing Gen Ankeny that he had purchased the land from the state honestly that he was able to prove it was swamp land and did not propose to go into any crooked transactions about it. The affidavit referred to is an affidavit not that he paid money, but that he declined to pay. If that affidavit is missing it should be hunted up and produced, or else it should not be referred to in official reports

The [illegible] the suspended list, embraces a large amount of land besides Mr French's, and it may [illegible] might I know embrace land that is not swamp [illegible] I think it will be found that all the land claimed by Mr French as swamp can be clearly proven to be such and to be within the grant of [illegible] 1860 under which the selection was made by the state

I think also it will be found on examination that the suspended list embraces much more land than 90 000 acres and that should the approval of the whole list by the secretary of the interior be [illegible] because part of the land included in it is not swamp a great wrong will be done inflicting the loss of more than $100,000 upon the state, and as much more upon some of her citizens Let the list be purged of its fraudulent selections but let not the honest selections be cancelled because of their being found in bad company

Yours very truly W LAIR HILL

FROM THOMPSON'S FALLS.

THOMPSON'S FALLS Mont Feb 4 188[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Noticing occasional mention of the mining interests of this section in your very excellent paper and knowing that numerous citizens of Portland are taking some interest in mining matters here I write The only work being done here this winter is on the Lucky Bob and the "Black Jack" The "Lucky Bob" was overlooked by your correspondent Mr Lang on account of the owners being away at the time of his visit It is noticeable as being the only galena lead in the camp the others being mostly antimony In the crosscut from the shaft sixty feet deep there was a body of ore sixteen feet in width, but water drove them out and they are now running a tunnel to tap the ore at a depth of 100 feet The tunnel is in now 120 feet and crosscuts have been run which show considerable ore in the formation for a width of 50 feet and the indications in the face of the tunnel are favorable for soon striking a body of galena. The galena is very rich in lead carrying between sixty and seventy per cent and some of it has assayed as high as $200 in silver with some gold The Black Jack is being worked by tunnel by Geo Bureau, and is fast developing into a veritable bonanza the whole face of the tunnel being in ore of very pure sulphide of antimony carrying both silver and gold and improving with every foot He has been offered already quite a snug sum for it.

Our smelter which failed in starting up last fall will probably pass into other hands, and be arranged by some one who has had experience in the business and not by experimentalists from the east before the spring opens as negotiations are pending to that effect

In the spring a great many mines will be worked in this vicinity which are now idle on account of the deep snows.

I noticed you said many inquiries were directed to you about this northwestern country I will answer all letters directed to me in regard to mines and the mining country as I have had eighteen years experience in mining and milling ores both gold and silver, always premising that there is no opening in this country for men who are broke unless they are miners Although this is going to be a great country there is no cause for a stampede but men with some capital can do well by being cautious and using the experience of others

DOWER AND COURTESY—RIGHTS OF MEN AND OF WOMEN.

PORTLAND, Feb [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Under our existing law widows are entitled to dower unless lawfully barred thereof And dower is defined as being the use, during the widow's actual life, of one third part of all the lands of which the husband was seized during the marriage There are one or two exceptions, which need not now be discussed

It is proposed to abolish dower by substituting for it a larger privilege that is, to give the widow one third part of such lands outright, instead of only a life interest in the same.

This may be a very good proposition. But, if it is favorably entertained, the situation of the widower ought also to be improved in one point, which I will explain.

By chapter 10 title 1, section 2, of the miscellaneous laws (Code p 847), the widow of a man who leaves no lineal descendants, and makes no will, gets his real estate in fee simple. But if the wife should die without making a will, there being no lineal descendants, the widower would get nothing in fee simple but only an estate by courtesy (Code p 689) which is nothing but a life estate in the land

There may be cogent reasons for making the rights of married women equal to those of married men But is there any reason why they should be greater? RICHARD H THORNTON

THESE QUESTIONS AWAIT ANSWERS.

SHEDD Or. Feb 7 1887

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I would be glad if some of those persons in and about the legislature who are opposing sundry measures calculated to benefit the state greatly, would answer the following questions, viz

First—Would not money be almost or quite as cheap to borrowers on good real estate as it is to the city of Portland, (viz. 5 per cent per annum, the rate on Portland's water bonds, and they selling at a high premium) if mortgages were free from taxes?

Second—Could not the borrower pay the taxes on his indebtedness for less than the 5 per cent. difference between taxed loans and those not taxed?

Third—If such a law was introduced in the legislature would not the bankers of the state make a big kick?

Fourth—Would any law the legislature can enact or anything the land commissioners can do, have any effect except to get up a big suit so long as the ring owns the supreme court and one of its judges is the ex governor under whose ruling the ring gets its title

Has not the grangers champion and would be senator fallen from grace when he goes lobbying for a corporation that bought up its own paper at 45 cents on the dollar and pays no taxes

PORTLAND Feb

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

It is gratifying to find that this subject is thought important enough to enlist the practiced pen of the author of an article headed, Against the Bible in Public Schools, in yesterday's OREGONIAN As the article was written however before the question referred to had been fully stated it would not be fair to consider it at this time And here it is proper to suggest that as space has been kindly granted within moderate limits" in your paper for discussing this matter justice to your paper and to the merits of the question itself require that unnecessary amplification, which will obscure instead of illuminating the matter be avoided and that the question be discussed as it was originally stated Where would be the danger of teaching the Lord's prayer and commandments in our public schools FOR ALL RIGHTS

WALLA WALLA

Action by the Common Council in Regard to the Columbia River

The common council of Walla Walla, at its last meeting, adopted the following.

WHEREAS, We, in common with all the people of Washington territory recognize that the opening of the Columbia river to public navigation is to the people of the Northwest of paramount importance and that each year the completion thereof is deferred is a loss to the people of Oregon and Washington almost, if not quite equal to the cost of such improvements.

Therefore we as the representatives of the people of the city of Walla Walla, promise that we will do all in our power to have the people of Oregon and Washington meet on common ground, and that any advance made by the legislature of the state of Oregon, looking to a joint effort of the people of the two jurisdictions for carrying forward this great work, will have at all times the earnest co-operation and aid of the city of Walla Walla and the people thereof, and that all right and proper efforts will be made to induce the governor and legislature of this territory to give the project their aid In our opinion the proposition to have the work carried on by Oregon and Washington is perfectly justifiable and meets our approval

THE LEGISLATURE.

Only Three Senators Vote Against the Lease Bills.

PENNOYER AND THE BRIDGE BILL.

The Senate Passes the Grant's Pass Charter—The House Passes the Multnomah County Clerk Bill—Etc.

SALEM, Feb. 7.—The measure now before the legislature authorizing the lease of the O. R. & N. railway system is contained in two bills, one amending the existing law relating to foreign corporations, and the other amending the existing law relative to domestic corporations. The first of these bills, numbered 54, introduced by Simon, and amended, is as follows:

Section 1. That section 1 of an act entitled "An act to authorize foreign corporations to do business and exercise their corporate powers within the state of Oregon," approved October 21, 1878, be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows: Sec. 1. That any foreign corporation incorporated for the purpose of constructing, or constructing and operating, or for the purpose of or with the power of acquiring and operating any railway, macadamized road, plank road, canal or bridge, or for the purpose of conducting water, gas, or other substance by means of pipes laid under ground, on compliance with the laws of this state for the regulation of foreign corporations transacting business therein, have the same rights, powers and privileges in the exercise of the rights of eminent domain, collection of tolls and other prerogative franchises, and in control of the management and disposition of their business, franchises and property, as are possessed by corporations organized for similar purposes under the general incorporation laws of this state. Provided always, that in case of the leasing of any line of railroad incorporated under the laws of this state by a foreign corporation, such leasing shall be upon the fundamental condition following, and not otherwise:

First—That such foreign corporation shall enter into an agreement in writing with the state of Oregon, to be signed by its president and attested by its secretary, which agreement shall be filed with the secretary of state of the state of Oregon, whereby and wherein said foreign corporation shall agree that in all suits or actions by and between said foreign incorporation and a citizen or citizens of this state during the continuance of such lease, shall be prosecuted or defended to final determination in courts constituted by the laws of this state, excepting in cases where such action or suits have been commenced in or removed to the federal courts by a citizen of this state. And upon failure to comply with the terms of such agreement by such foreign corporations, such lease shall utterly determine and be rendered null and void, at the option of the legislative assembly of the state of Oregon.

Second—That the state of Oregon reserves to itself, through its legislative assembly, and in such manner as it shall determine, the right, power and authority to prescribe the rates to be charged for transportation of persons and property on such leased lines; and also to prescribe and make such police regulations for the government of such roads as it may from time to time determine.

THE OTHER MEASURE.

The second of these bills relating to domestic corporations, with all amendments to date, is as follows:

Section 1. That section 5, of title 1, of chapter 7, of the miscellaneous laws of Oregon, be and the same are hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Upon making and filing articles of incorporation, as herein provided, the persons subscribing to the same as incorporators are authorized to carry into effect the objects specified in the articles, in the manner provided in this chapter; and they and their successors, associates and assigns, by the name assumed in such article, shall thereafter be deemed a body corporate, with power,

First—To sue and be sued.

Second—To contract and be contracted with.

Third—To have and use a corporate seal, and the same to alter at pleasure.

Fourth—To purchase, possess and dispose of such real and personal property as may be necessary and convenient to carry into effect the objects of the corporation; and to take, hold and possess, and dispose of, all real and personal property donated to such corporation by the United States, or by any state, territory, county, city or other municipal corporation, or by any person, firm, association or private corporation, for the purpose of aiding in the objects of such corporation.

Fifth—To appoint such subordinate officers and agents as the business of the corporation may require, and prescribe their duties and compensation.

Sixth—To make by-laws not inconsistent with any existing law, for the sale of any portion of its stock for delinquent or unpaid assessments due thereon, which sale may be made without judgment or execution. Provided, that no such sale shall be made without thirty days' notice of the time and place of sale, in some newspaper in circulation in the neighborhood of such company, for the transfer of its stock, for the management of its property and for general regulation of its affairs.

Seventh—In case the object or purpose for which any such corporation is incorporated is, in whole or in part, to construct and operate a railroad, to lease any part of or all its road to any other company incorporated for the purpose of maintaining and operating a railroad, and to lease, purchase, maintain and operate any part or all of any other railroad constructed by any other company, upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between said companies, respectively, any two or more railroad companies, whose lines are connected, may perfect any arrangement for their common benefit to assist and promote the object for which they were created; provided that nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the leasing of any railroad line to any company or corporation owning a road which forms a competing or parallel line to its railroad.

These bills are twins, neither being of effect without the other. It has been the policy of those who are pushing the lease measure to keep these bills which embody it together. According to agreement, they came up in the senate this afternoon and passed, Weatherford, Cauthorn and Veatch alone voting no. From the senate they went directly to the house, where they were read the first time according to rule, but a motion to suspend the rules and read a second time failed. Later in the afternoon the motion was renewed as to bill 54, and carried, Haley, Paulsen and Thompson alone voting no, and the effort to push bill No. 55 through by the same method failed. So the two are separated. Sentiment is, I think, favorable to the lease, and there is no serious doubt that both bills will go through, though not probably till the latter part of the current week.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER THE WATER BILL.

In the house this afternoon Thompson called up his motion to reconsider the vote by which the water bill was passed on Friday evening, but it failed to carry, so it goes to the governor. Thompson's purpose in this matter is simply in keeping with his theory, that no bonds, national, state or corporate, should be exempt from taxation. It is quite certain that Gov. Pennoyer will return this bill without his approval, but Mr. Wilson, who has it in charge, is confident that it will pass over his veto. I do not regard this as certain. The objections which the governor will urge are of a character to make a profound impression upon members who are only too willing to be convinced against anything originating in or for the benefit of Portland.

PENNOYER AND THE BRIDGE BILL.

The bridge bill is still in the hands of the governor, who to-day received from the United States engineers at Portland a copy of their report made to the secretary of war on the bridge matter, and not yet made public. It is to be expected that he will communicate with the legislature on this subject, and I have not the slightest doubt that his communication will be in the form of a veto.

THE GRANT'S PASS TROUBLE.

The Grant's Pass charter continues a subject of bitter contention. It came up this afternoon in the senate, according to previous arrangement, and passed by an almost unanimous vote. Miller made a speech reported fully in the detailed report following, in which he scored Riddle, Bourne et al. severely. These gentlemen declare that he misrepresented them shamelessly as to the amount of taxes paid. Bourne says that his assessment is above $20,000, although the greater part of it is in the name of C. J. Smith, to whom he gave a deed of trust for business convenience during his absence from the state last year. To prove this statement he refers to the assessment for Josephine county for 1886, on file in the office of the secretary of state. He further declares Miller's statement to the effect that himself and others have a scheme to build private water works at Grant's Pass as absolutely false. Riddle is equally emphatic. He charges Miller with double-dealing, falsehood and fraud, and says that his interest is solely mercenary and selfish. He also charges President Carson, who is Miller's business partner, with having suppressed a remonstrance against a bill forwarded last Wednesday by telegraph, and signed by about fifty citizens of the town. The bill had not reached the house before adjournment to-night, and will come up for the first reading directly after roll call to-morrow morning. It is hinted to-night that when it comes up there will be serious disclosures on the floor of the house as to the methods by which the fight has been carried on.

NOTES.

The reapportionment bill, as proposed by the joint committee and reported in this correspondence last week, was amended in the senate to-day by taking one representative from Multnomah and giving it to Douglas. The bill was then made a special order for Thursday at 2 o'clock.

Harrington's bill to abolish the office of county clerk in Multnomah county, and to create instead the offices of county recorder, clerk of the circuit court and clerk of the county court, passed the house this evening by an almost unanimous vote, and will no doubt pass the senate. The bill makes no change in fees, which will remain the same as now for the same service.

I am told to-night that Roberts of Coos received a dispatch to-day from Senator Mitchell, congratulating him upon his "vindication" over the "Cantankerous Oregonian crew." This is rich, indeed. A. H.

HOUSE.

SALEM, Feb. 7.—The house met at 2. A communication was received from the Walla Walla city council, urging the improvement of the Columbia river, and pledging co-operation by the people of Washington.

Watts's senate bill No. 53, amending the McMinnville charter; second reading.

Senate bill No. 161; second reading.

Maxwell's house bill No. 250, reducing fees of Clatsop county clerk; second reading.

NEW BILLS.

No. 252, by Harrington—Permitting foreign corporations who are required to deposit bonds with the state to file state or municipal as well as national bonds; first reading.

No. 253, by Pomeroy—For a wagon road from Tillamook bay to Clatskanie Landing, on the Columbia river, and appropriating $5000 for this purpose; first reading.

No. 254, by Pomeroy—Providing for two county commissioners for Columbia county; first reading.

No. 255, by E. A. Miller—Requiring road supervisors to keep a list of persons liable to road tax, and to submit it to his successor in office; first reading.

No. 256, by Crook—Authorizing the putting of gates in county roads by consent of the county court, if a majority of the people in the precinct wish it; first reading.

No. 257, by Johnson—To prevent deception in the sale of dairy products. This bill prescribes changes in the present dairy law designed to make it more effective; first reading.

No. 258, by Noyes—For relief of George Clark, of Clackamas county, in the sum of $600; first reading, a motion to suspend rules and read second time was lost.

THIRD READING OF HOUSE BILLS.

McCully's bill, No. 44—Relating to county roads; indefinitely postponed.

Paulsen's lien bill No. 77, passed with only two dissenting votes.

Harrington's bill, relating to appeals, No. 173—Indefinitely postponed.

Lockett's bill, No. 44—Relating to state lands; passed.

Munger's bill, No. 79—To prevent detention of witnesses, came up on the third reading; lost, only three voting aye.

Boyed's road bill, No. 73, passed.

Noyes's road bill—Referred to the committee of the whole.

EVENING SESSION.

H. B. 211, Goodsell—To exempt certain firemen in Portland; passed.

H. B. 246, Henry—To allow a school district in Linn county to build a school house; passed.

H. B. 254, Harrington—Abolishing the office of county clerk in Multnomah county, and creating the offices of clerk of the circuit court, clerk of the county court and recorder of conveyances; passed.

H. B. 223, Wilcox—Amending the Arlington charter; passed.

H. B. 214, Wilcox—Fixing the time of holding circuit court in the Seventh district; passed.

H. B. 218, Benjamin—Fixing the time of holding circuit court in the Second district; passed.

H. B. 12, Bowditch—Fixing the time of holding circuit court in the First district; passed.

SENATE.

The senate met at 2.

S. B. No. 54, Simon—allowing the O. R. & N. Co. to lease to the Union Pacific, was taken up as a special order of business, and read the third time for final passage. Little opposition was manifested, and the bill passed. Veatch, Weatherford and Cauthorne voting no.

No. 55, Simon—amending the foreign corporation law in relation to the O. R. & N. Co's. lease. Passed.

T. G. Hendricks and C. C. Beakman were confirmed as regents of the state university.

S. B. 165—the apportionment bill, amended to give Douglas three representatives and Multnomah nine representatives; read twice and made the special order for Thursday at 2 o'clock.

BILLS IN THE INTEREST OF STOCKMEN.

S. B. No. 91, Barin, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among animals, and for the appointment of a state veterinary surgeon, at a salary of $1000 per annum, and two commissioners on the same work. Barin explained that contagious cattle diseases in the East had killed off many cattle, and the infection might make its appearance here any day. An ounce of prevention was worth the usual pound of cure.

Veatch objected seriously to a sick cow, horse and cat doctor at the expense of the state. They might as well start in now and levy a ten-mill tax to pay him. He might be located in Portland, and there might be sick sheep in Eastern Oregon that he would be called upon to attend to. Veatch admitted that he was skeptical on the subject of doctors anyhow.

Hare spoke of the importance of quarantine regulations among 250 cattle, and the great attention to such law in the East. One herd of diseased cattle imported here and turned loose among our stock might wipe out the whole stock industry in a short time. The bill was in the interest of the agricultural classes, and should pass.

The bill was variously debated on by Chandler, Cauthorne, Shupe, Wager, Coleman, Cartwright, and Chamberlin. It was claimed that the bill was too voluminous, and would necessitate a band of veterinary surgeons to run all over the state. The bill is very lengthy, and provides for so many regulations that cattle county men could not agree, so it was finally referred to a special committee consisting of Coleman, Barin and Rinehart.

S. B. 83, by Cartwright—For an inspector of stock in each county, to be appointed by the county court. The duties of the inspector are to examine live stock for contagious disease, and prevent a spread of the same. The salaries of the inspectors range from $25 to $500 per year, according to location. The bill is amendatory to the present law, which relates principally to sheep, and mainly affects Eastern Oregon. The bill passed. Emmett, Shupe, Watts and Weatherford voted no.

PASSAGE OF THE GRANT'S PASS BILL.

No. 137, same as H. B. 63—Incorporating Grant's Pass. Miller said it was an insignificant subject, but unfortunately had created a great deal of commotion. The bill was prepared by citizens of Grant's Pass, who, at a public meeting, asked for incorporation by a vote of 51 to 11. A charter was prepared by a representative committee. There was a petition for the adoption of the charter signed by 107 persons and a remonstrance of 34 persons, the names of whom were mostly obtained by misrepresentation. Omitting those so obtained would leave but 20 names on the remonstrance. The charter had been before the committees of both houses and had been formally reported upon. There was some power behind this. It was strange that the legislature should so oppose this when the people of Grant's Pass petitioned for it. The opposition had even gone so far as to publish articles in certain newspapers against the charter, for which he understood the editors were well paid; and there was also great interest manifested in the lobby against this measure. Miller finished by criticising the opponents of the measure, showing that they were opposing it on account of the presumed confiscation of property. Jonathan Bourne paid a 5-mill tax on $2600 worth of property, Sol Abrams on $6000, and Geo. W. Riddle on $3100. The total tax paid by all these opponents amounted to only $27. In Grant's Pass they had a soil similar to that of Ashland. In Ashland they had a stream of water which was distributed all over town among the people, and was the cause of the productiveness of that place. Without it the place would be in a large measure barren, and the people of Ashland would not do without this stream for half a million of dollars. In Grant's Pass a ditch was proposed for use by the people. The object of the men who were opposing the charter was not to prevent paying this $27 taxes, but to prevent the putting in of a ditch by the people, so they could put one in as a private enterprise. This the people didn't want, but did want water, and water free as air. Senators of outside sections should not oppose this.

Cartwright asked leave to file a petition in relation to the measure. The president decided that the bill was on its final passage; that the introduction of the petition was out of order and declined to allow its reading. The bill passed, Veatch voting no.

S. B. No. 86, by Simon—Increasing the salaries of supreme court judges to $3600 a year. Simon, after stating that the present salary of $2500 a year was wholly inadequate, read letters from S. F. Chadwick, Judge Deady, Judge Prim, George H. Williams, Jas. K. Kelly and Judge Shattuck, that according to their opinion the bill to increase the salaries of the supreme judges was constitutional, as while the constitution placed the salaries of the supreme judges at $2000 a year, it did not provide that the salary be not increased.

Veatch strenuously opposed the bill, on the ground of its unconstitutionality. Pending discussion, the senate adjourned.

WALLA WALLA NOTES.

WALLA WALLA, Feb. 6.

The streets are to be lighted with gas.

Walla Walla boasts a Bric-a-Brac and a Brick-Bat club.

An invitation ball will be given by the Walla Walla Turn verein Tuesday evening.

The just before Lent "informal" of the Ivanhoe social club will take place February 15.

Five inches of snow and still snowing, with the mercury hanging on the ragged edge of zero, makes the ice man smile.

The Knights of Pythias of this city will celebrate the twenty fourth anniversary of the order with a grand ball, to be given under the auspices of Columbia lodge, No. 8.

Arrangements are being made for the appearance of Emma Abbott at Small's opera house on the 16th inst. Special trains will be run in from all surrounding towns.

Our Boys engine company will give an entertainment on Washington's birthday for the mutual benefit of the Walla Walla public library and the State Firemen's association.

The Ladies' guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will give a Japanese tea at Small's opera house, Wednesday evening, February 9. The programme includes musical and literary events, tableaux and a Mikado fan drill. Those partaking of tea will be presented with a cup and saucer.

ANOTHER TRAIN WRECK.

The Helena Independent of February 3 received here yesterday, has a special from Garrison, Mont., giving particulars of the wreck of a road-breaking train of two engines. Both were derailed by running into a drift on a sharp curve and toppled over. Frank Jones, engineer of No. 235, was caught in the wreck and almost instantly killed. Horatio Smith, his fireman, escaped by jumping, as did the fireman of the other engine, No. 241. Dan O'Neill, the engineer of the latter engine, however, went down with his engine and was taken out severely injured, having his scalp badly scalded and one leg badly crushed and bruised. Several snowshovelers were more or less injured. Both Jones and O'Neill were married and resided at Missoula.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY, Feb. 7.

Overland receipts include 20 sks corn, car white lead, 74 bxs patent medicines, 7 bbls 2 cs paint, 1?? cs boots and shoes, 196 bxs tobacco, 2 cs cigars, 4 cs cigarettes, 43 bxs nails, 1 cs corsets, 10 cs canned goods, 75 bxs soap, 10 cs syrup, 11 sks dried peaches, 7 cs cheese.

New snow fell last night and again this afternoon, the fall being light up to a late hour in the day, but promising much. With the snow comes slightly warmer weather. Trade is necessarily dull, although the inward goods movement is assuming heavy proportions.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Visible supply of wheat in the United States and Canada, east of the Rocky Mountains, 61,770,000 bushels, a decrease of 75,000 bushels during past week.

The London correspondent of the Minneapolis Miller, writing under date of January 12 expresses surprise at the materially increased deliveries of home grown wheat and the result of flour stock taking. As his letter referred to is well worth reading, its most important parts are extracted: "There has been decidedly more quietness in the wheat and flour trade this week, first, because the visible supply will persist in rising each week, and secondly, because the stocks in the United Kingdom prove to be much larger than everybody anticipated. As a matter of fact, our stocks of wheat and flour in first hands were no less than 17,000,000 bushels instead of 10,000,000, as I expected in my last letter to you. What has misled me is the farmers' deliveries of home grown wheat, the total of which in the 187 principal towns is supposed to represent one-third of the whole, but must be less than that amount. The result at any rate, is that we are not so badly off as was thought. In fact the revelation is sufficient, I imagine, to check any further rise for the next few weeks, although hardly powerful enough to cause the recent advance to be lost, for there can be no manner of doubt that in the last two months of 1886 stocks were drawn upon to the extent of 4,000,000 bushels. Wheat stocks are 1,266,149 qrs. against 2,?45,?04 qrs. one year ago. The reduction during the year has been very substantial, but when we turn to flour we find that the total stock in fourteen principal ports is 565,225 sacks, against 977,?66 sacks last year. This 565,225 sacks of flour represents 370,000 qrs wheat, so that the total of wheat and flour is 1,636,149 qrs, against 3,120,264 qrs at the end of last year. With regard to the outlook for the next four months, it is evident that we shall see a further large reduction in our stocks. In fact, it is estimated that from January 1 to April 30 our supplies will be 560,000 qrs below our requirements, in which case we shall see our stocks reduced by May 1 to about 1,000,000 qrs. Outside of the stock question there is no change in the outlook. Australia has not yet begun to ship wheat for Europe, and India is not able to spare more than 600,000 bushels per week, while South Russia is sending all her wheat to the Mediterranean. This latter fact is one which will have a considerable influence on values. Italy and Greece are both important importers of wheat now, although three or four years ago Italy was an exporter to France of a fair quantity of what is known as Richelles wheat. It is worth noting that of 423 ships laden with wheat which have passed the Dardanelles, not more than 24 have come to the United Kingdom, the remainder going to Mediterranean and continental ports. Altogether, while I consider the position warrants the rise already obtained, I think that the large stocks in America and the unexpectedly large quantity in store in the United Kingdom will, in the present temper of the trade, check any further advance for some time.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past forty-eight hours: 325 ctls wheat, 1621 bbls flour, 265 ctls oats, 1250 ctls millstuff, 90 lbs wool, 6619 lbs hides, 8 cs butter, 31 cs eggs, 400 bxs fruit, 150 sheep, 8 cattle, 7 hogs. FREIGHTS—The fleet in river is now down to four vessels. The Bessfield is at Astoria full, the Hornby Castle on way down, and the Patterdale and Ballochmyle here loading.

WHEAT—Foreign markets easy and lower; San Francisco is easier. A rather liberal receipt is noted here to-day from the eastern section, Walla Walla and neighboring points sending the bulk of shipments. The market throughout is dull and without change other than that the undertone is not so good.

OATS—Receipts noted are for shipment. Market firm locally under a light supply.

POTATOES—Very few moving, the market being dull but firm.

EGGS—Few in. Selling at 40c.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Ship F. F. Sargent, 1??? tons, built at Yarmouth, Me., in 1874, and hailing from that port, now at New York, has been purchased by John Rosenfeld of San Francisco for $26,000. She will be commanded by Capt. Baker.

Bark Austria sailed from San Francisco in ballast January 21 for Tacoma. The str Mexico reported a bark ashore near Cleone about the 21st. The Austria was built at Bath in 1869 for Houghton Bros., and registered 1280 tons. Lately she was sold to A. M. Simpson and others.

Bark Geo. S. Homer sailed from Melbourne December 12 for Boston.

Br bark Astracan was built at Birkenhead in 1864. At the time of her loss she must have been far west of the usual track.

Br bark Arthurstone, hence October 5 for Liverpool, was spoken December 30 in 25 S. 30 W.

Br bark Desa sailed from Cork January 29 for Hull.

Br bark ? the Bernt sailed from Falmouth January ?? for the Tyne and reached her side January ??.

Br bark Bebington sailed hence July 24 with a cargo of wheat loaded by Balfour, Guthrie & Co. Her master expected to be six months on the voyage home. Until to-day nothing had been heard of the bark and as she was 191 days out at the end of January there was some apprehension as to her safety felt. To-day an advice from the Falkland Isles reports her passing there November 5, 104 days out. She is now 94 days from the Falklands to Queenstown, and will probably be soon reported. The Bebington was built at Belfast in 1868.

DOMESTIC PORTS.

RED STAR COUGH CURE

NO OPIATES, NO POISON.

A SAFE MEDICINE.

A Mother's Voice—Colds, Coughs and Sore Throat—Cured.

95 Aisquith st., Baltimore, Md.

For the benefit of those, who, like myself have not only suffered themselves, but having large families, always have one or more suffering with colds, coughs or sore throats, I most willingly and cheerfully recommend the Red Star Cough Cure. No family should—at this time of year particularly—be without it, for I have found nothing in many years of experience which so promptly cures and gives relief in the cases mentioned, which are so common, and which, if not attended to at once, often lead to more serious complaints. My family is large and we are never without your Cough Cure and its efficacy in the past makes me feel that I owe a duty to mankind, to inform them through you of the benefits we have derived from it without any of the unpleasant effects experienced from other cough medicines.

MRS. M. POLLOCK.

Notre Dame Sisters—For Chest and Sore Throat.

Govanstown, Md.

We have used the Red Star Cough Cure, and in several cases have found it beneficial in alleviating coughs, oppression on the chest and irritation of the throat.

SISTERS OF NOTRE DAME.

No Opiates—A Remarkable Test.

Loveland, Ohio.

I have used your Red Star Cough Cure, and use it now whenever I have the first. For ten years I was a slave to the opium habit, and did your Cough Cure contain opiates, I would not dare use it. This alone is positive proof that it is free from opiates. It is all you claim for it.

BLACK WOLF.

Or Black Leprosy, is a disease which is considered incurable, but it has yielded to the curative properties of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC—now known all over the world as S. S. S. Mrs. Bailey, of West Somerville, Mass., near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent, who could only say that the disease was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all-wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S. S. S.), prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under protest, but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison, as the sores assumed a red and healthy color, as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs. Bailey continued the S. S. S. until last February; every sore was healed; she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in twelve years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Bailey, is in business at 17½ Blackstone Street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.
